POPULATION
FLED IN TERRORFROM TOWN DESTROYED
BY MOUNT VESUVIUSStory of Italian Officer Who Witnessed Destruction of Boscotrease—Everything Swept Away by Current of Fire.

Rome, Italy, April 9.—The Giornale d'Italia this afternoon published a dispatch from Naples, giving an interview with Lieutenant Chiarocci, commanding a detachment of troops, who witnessed the destruction of Boscotrease, as a result of the eruption of Mount Vesuvius.

"All was quiet in the town just before its destruction," he said, "the people believing they were safe from the stream of lava, but after midnight there were rumblings were heard, followed by violent earthquake shocks, which shattered windows and cracked walls. Lava began flowing from Mount Ciramele near where fresh fissures opened a few days ago. A wild panic ensued, the people rushing into the streets shrieking with terror. The Ciramele crater was by that time hurling forth masses of incandescent rocks and a current of fire was sweeping down the mountain with terrific speed, flowing in two streams. One of them, 200 yards broad, was flowing toward the center of the town. The population fled in terror to Torre Annunziata, while soldiers visited houses in order to see that all the inhabitants escaped. In so doing they rescued several bedridden old people who had been left behind by their terrified relatives."

Indescribable scenes of panic were witnessed and the people seemed to have lost all control over themselves. The town was hardly evacuated when the river of fire invaded the houses and soon afterward Boscotrease seemed enveloped in flames. After passing Boscotrease the two streams of lava joined and flowed toward Torre Annunziata.

DAY OF TERROR.
Naples, April 9.—This has been a day of terror for the cities, towns and country about Mount Vesuvius. Unconfirmed reports place the number of dead and injured at several hundred, but not many facts can be obtained upon which to base an accurate estimate. At midnight the situation appears to be more alarming, lava streams having diminished in volume and in some directions have stopped altogether, while a copious rainfall is cooling the lava where it lies stationary. Almost equal with the devastation wrought by lava is the damage done by cinders and ashes, which in incredible quantities are being carried great distances. This has caused the practical destruction of San Giuseppe, a place of 6,000 inhabitants, all but 200 of the people had fled from San Giuseppe. These people had assembled in a church to attend mass. While the priest was performing his sacred offices the roof fell in and about sixty persons were badly injured. At Ottajano five churches and ten houses fell under the weight of ashes and cinders, which lie four feet deep on the ground. In the fall of buildings twelve persons were killed and many injured. The village is completely deserted. After evacuation of the place the barracks and prisons fell in.

Reports from coast and inland towns tell of terrible devastation. San Giorgio, Cremona, Portici, Resina and Torre Del Greco have been almost completely abandoned. The inhabitants of Torre Annunziata are prepared to leave at a moment's warning. Somma Vesuviana is another village which has suffered most severely. Most buildings in the villages are of flimsy construction and have flat roofs and so are but poorly calculated to bear the weight of ashes and cinders that have fallen upon them. Inevitably it will be found that a considerable number of persons have perished by the falling in of their homes.

Although the eruption of the volcano is less violent than it was, twenty-four hours ago, ashes are still falling in great quantities. Refugees from threatened or destroyed villages are pouring into Naples by the thousands. The roads are crowded with processions of men and women carrying crosses and crying piteously. Special railway trains, warships and steamers are employed in conveying homeless people to Naples, Rome and Castellammare, while large numbers of people are fleeing overland in the direction of Caserta. No less than 15,000 refugees have reached Castellammare, where the steamer Princess Matilda is anchored. This vessel left the island of Capri with 1,000 passengers, including many foreigners on board, but she was unable to reach her destination owing to the stifling clouds of ashes and fumes of gases from the volcano, which enveloped her a mile from the coast. King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena have further endeavored themselves to the people by their activity in behalf of the sufferers and the government is exerting itself for relief of the destitute. This work, however, is obstructed by the congestion of all means of transportation, which are monopolized in the carrying of people out of the zone of danger.

The king and queen and their suites arrived at Naples this morning from Rome. When the royal train reached the station the eruption of the volcano was almost at its worst, but both insisted upon leaving immediately for Torre Annunziata, and set out for the afflicted districts. Touching scenes greeted them along the way. The sovereigns visited Santa Anastasi, Corcola and Somma Vesuviana, where they were greeted with great enthusiasm. At a certain point the royal party was struck by a small cyclone of ashes and cinders. The king sent his motor car ahead at full speed and crossed the path of the cyclone in safety. It was found necessary to continue the journey on foot. Conditions at Torre Annunziata and Pompeii were improved to day owing to a change in the direction taken by the flowing lava. Early in the day apprehension was felt for inhabitants of the country in the vicinity of Caserta, a place of about 35,000 population, in whose direction lava has been flowing. The town of Nola, a place of 100,000 inhabitants, twenty-two miles from Naples has suffered severely by the fall of ashes coming from the crater, which were carried by the wind as far as the Adriatic sea.

About 150,000 refugees from the district of Somma Vesuviana have sought shelter in Naples and elsewhere. Four thousand persons are lodged in the Granile barracks in this city. The stream of lava which has been threatening Torre Annunziata has remained stationary since Sunday evening, so that the danger of that place being overwhelmed appears to have passed. When the last train was leaving Boscotrease yesterday a fresh crater opened near the observatory station.

SCENE OF DESOLATION.
An Associated Press correspondent this evening visited menaced villages. The railway and tram tracks were inches deep below volcanic ashes and the same material made roads impracticable for horses, so that an automobile was the only means left by which an inspection of the devastated country could be made. The scene was one of such misery and terror that it can never be obliterated from memory. Slight tremblings of the earth were felt and frequent lightning cut through the smoke. Darkness came at intervals long before nightfall. In the streets of deserted towns the only sound was the thud of ashes falling on roofs and the puffing of the automobile. In a town where people yet remain the houses were closed and the inhabitants roaming disconsolately about the streets. In the course of the tour a point was reached from which Vesuvius could be seen under its cloud of smoke. The high cone of the volcano has gone almost entirely, having been swallowed up, so that the height of the mountain is nearly 600 feet less than formerly. On the north side of the mountain new craters have been formed.

M'LAWRIN AND
MORGAN SPEAKFOR AND AGAINST RAIL-ROAD LEGISLATIONGovernment for People of District of Columbia Discussed in House—Other Washington
News.

Washington, April 9.—Senator McLaughlin and Morgan addressed the senate to day on the railroad rate question, the former advocating legislation and the latter opposing. The Mississippi senator announced his intention to support an amendment providing for court review of decisions of the interstate commerce commission and also stated his adherence to Bailey's amendment prohibiting temporary suspension of the commission's orders by inferior courts. He criticized what he characterized as an effort to inject politics into consideration of the bill.

Morgan took the position that the proposed legislation was an interference with the rights of states to control corporations created by themselves, and said the best way to check exorbitant railroad rates was to keep the waterways in such condition as to insure competition.

HOUSE.
Notwithstanding the fact that this was district day in the house and that body had resolved itself into a common council for the purpose of making laws for the District of Columbia, general interest was shown in bills requiring non-resident pupils to pay tuition and regulation of employment of child labor. Hepburn of Iowa, replying to a long speech by Sims of Tennessee, in which he advocated self-government for the people of the District of Columbia, made a defense of the form of government, but criticized its administration. He did not think two newspaper men and one army officer—who constituted the board of commissioners—a proper personnel for such a government. While he admired the oratorical powers of newspaper men on the board, he thought it would be better for them to improve the city streets than to make speeches.

POWDER TRUST.
Senator Daniel to day put into the Congressional Record a letter from R. S. Waddell, president of the Peoria, Ill., Powder company, in reply to a letter from G. M. Peters, president of the King Powder company, which denied that the latter concern is in a "trust." Waddell gave numerous incidents of powder deals which he alleged proved the existence of a "trust," and closed as follows:

"I now urgently call upon the attorney generals of the United States and of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Missouri and Kansas, where the 'trust' is operating mills, to afford these parties and opportunity to appear before courts and without mental reservation or secret evasion of mind, to vindicate themselves from the specific charges I make by disclosing the truth or pay the penalty for willful infraction of the laws. I pledge myself to furnish all and more proofs than are necessary to determine cases. I agree to voluntarily attend and jog the memory of Peters and others of the above and hundreds of other acts wherein they knowingly and willfully have and are now buying extortions on the people and the government in defiance of law."

SHERMAN CHAIRMAN.
Representative Sherman of New York was to night elected chairman of the Republican congressional campaign in various states. Representative Tanney of Minnesota was elected vice chairman. Representative Loudenslager of New Jersey, secretary, and Representative McKinley of Illinois was elected treasurer. The chairman was authorized to name an executive committee and fill vacancies on the congressional committee. Changes in officers were made at a dinner given to night by retiring officers to the new committee.

CAPITAL NOTES.
The senate to day passed an act to approve certain final proofs in the Chamberlain land district, South Dakota.

DECLINE MINERS' PLAN

But Operators Will Present a Counter Proposition—Anthracite Coal Situation.

New York, April 9.—At a joint conference of the sub-committees of the anthracite mine owners and their employees, to be held to night, the operators will decline to accept the arbitration plan presented last week by the miners and will, in its stead, present a counter proposition which, if agreed to by Mitchell, will bind each side for more than two years. The operators have been working on the new plan ever since adjournment of the joint conference and the inability of the president of the hard coal carrying railroad to complete minor details caused postponement for twenty-four hours of the conference scheduled for to day. The exact nature of the counter proposition was not made known by the operators. It is said, however, the offer involves an arbitration plan very different from the one

DOWIE'S COMINGZION CITY "SLEEPING ON ITS ARMS"Arrival of Deposed Prophet Is Awaited With Anxiety—Dowie
Says He Never Again Will Live With His Wife.

Zion City, Ill., April 9.—Zion City is "sleeping on its arms" to night, to quote one of Dowie's erstwhile followers, awaiting the coming of the "first apostle." There is but one subject of conversation and that is the possible eventualities of to-morrow, which is expected to see Dowie again set foot in the community he founded.

Another mass meeting was held to night in Shiloh tabernacle and final instructions were given by Overseer Voliva, the new manager of Zion's affairs, for the conduct of loyal followers of the new regime when the deposed "prophet" attempts to regain his seer. Dowie has been heralded as sweeping down on the city in a blaze of wrath, declaring that an underlying cannot depose his creator. The onslaught, so far as to night's meeting showed, is awaited with repressed anxiety, but outwardly composed. With Voliva in the center of things, Dowie and Mrs. Dowie on his right hand, Overseers and deacons of the church to night urged the members to cheer Dowie's entrance of any dramatic tinge by remaining away from the railway station, buying themselves as usual with the routine affairs of life as though there never had been an "Elijah III." Because Dowie is ill a carriage will be allowed to meet him, as it might any other sick man, for, theoretically at least, he is no more, if as much, than any other citizen of this town. He will be driven directly to the Shiloh house and taken to apartments as far as possible from Mrs. Dowie's location in the house was decided on following the receipt of a dispatch from Little Rock, Ark., in which Dowie is quoted as saying Mrs. Dowie will never be wife to him again. "Probably the idea is mutual," remarked Gladstone Dowie, son of the "prophet," when the news was given to him. "I am not in the least surprised." The substance of the Little Rock bulletin was conveyed to Mrs. Dowie by her son, but she refused to see reporters. Gladstone Dowie to night repeated solemnly the statement he has often made of late, that if "the old man" insisted on a fight, he (Gladstone) still had a card in his sleeve which was being reserved for the crisis. What this card is has never been made public, but the present management of Zion apparently regard it as a trump of great potency. And, inasmuch as severely any body thinks Dowie will lay down his arms until thoroughly beaten, it is expected that this card will be thrown face upward on the table when the proper time comes. If Dowie wants to hold a meeting, it is said he will have to do it in vacant lots and these lots, after recent rains, are little better than bogs.

HAD SECRET ROOM.
A curious angle to Dowie's character was disclosed by Overseer Voliva, the first speaker at to night's meeting. Dr. Dowie, according to Voliva, had a secret, iron barred room in his house, which for the first time was entered to day by an outsider. "It will surprise you to learn," said Voliva, "that in Shiloh house there was the most curious room in America. The czar of Russia may have one and need one, but who would think there was one in the peaceful city of Zion. We knew there was a room kept always locked and into which Dowie himself seldom went. We entered it to day and to do so had to batter through two iron doors. The room was like a vault, except that the bolts and bars were mostly on the inside. Light came into the room through a bull's eye window, the outside of which was protected by heavy iron shutters. Air was admitted through a funnel. There was a bed inside—a bed so curious that I cannot attempt to describe it. An this room, this cell, was built by and for a man who used to stand before you and ask you to tell him what fear was like."

DONE WITH HIS WIFE.
Little Rock, Ark., April 9.—Dr. John Alexander Dowie will never again live with his wife. This disclosure he made this afternoon to the Associated Press, for whom he sent. His final determination to separate from Mrs. Dowie was made at a conference with her and Dr. Chicago papers of last Friday. The story to the effect he had intended to establish a colony in his Mexican colony, which he ascribed to Mrs. Dowie and his son Gladstone, caused him great anguish. "How could they be so cruel? How could they cause to be published such a thing?" He said over and over again. When he had regained his composure he told of his irrevocable decision never to live with Mrs. Dowie again. "She is the cause of most of my trouble," he reiterated. "She has

HAMILTON CLUB.

Nicholas Longworth Guest of Honor at Anniversary Celebration.

Chicago, April 9.—Congressman Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of President Roosevelt, was the guest of honor at a dinner given to night in the Auditorium banquet hall by the Hamilton club, in celebration of the forty-first anniversary of Appointment. President Wood of the Hamilton club acted as toastmaster. When Congressman Longworth arose to speak he was given a reception by the 400 members of the club of which many men would be proud. He spoke with special reference to the tendency to assail public men and belittle their character and impugn their motives.

PLENTY OF RAIN.
Sunday the weather clock turned on the hose in good shape and several times the rain came down in torrents. Monday nature seemed to regret what had been done and sent the sun and wind and the roads seemed to dry as if by magic. So far there has been an abundance of rain but hardly any too much as it is necessary for the ground to be well filled with water before seedling time. Tile drains are running almost to their full capacity and it will be some days before much work can be done in the fields.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGES.
Peoria, April 9.—D. C. Smith, Jr., assistant cashier of the field Ties-Smith bank at Pekin, Ill., and son of President D. C. Smith, Cr., was arrested to day on a charge of embezzlement. He was bound over to the grand jury. Conrad Lappe, Habbe Velds, Henry Block and D. C. Smith were re-arrested on ten warrants and bound over to the grand jury on additional charges.

MARSH AFLOAT.
Oshkosh, Wis., April 9.—About 300 acres of the Butte Des Moines marsh, opposite the village of Butte Des Moines, is afloat, and it is feared the bog will be carried into the Fox river through Oshkosh into Lake Winnebago, causing much damage to bridges. Efforts were being made to day to anchor the bog by the use of piling.

BANK CLOSED ITS DOORS.
Joliet, April 9.—The Exchange bank of Frankfort, Ill., a private institution owned by Supervisor Howard Barker, to day closed its doors; assets and liabilities not stated. Barker failed of re-election as supervisor and during the settlement with his successor in office the bank was closed.

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

Coal Wagon Struck by Wabash Passenger—Driver Thrown High Into Air—Burlington Building New Switch.

Mr. Schupman, a driver for York & Son, coal dealers, had a narrow escape from death Saturday morning, when the rear end of his wagon was hit by Wabash passenger train No. 23 from the east, which arrives at 10:30 o'clock. He was driving on North West street, approaching the railroad crossing, and as there were a number of trains in the yards, he failed to see the approaching passenger train or failed to hear the signals that he was directly on the track. Seeing his danger he applied the whip to the horses, but they failed to clear the track before the train caught the rear end of the wagon, tearing it to splinters. The driver was thrown into the air and alighted near the track. He was bruised and scratched to some extent, although there is nothing serious about his injuries. The horses, as soon as the accident happened, stood in their places, trembling from head to foot, too frightened to run.

J. E. Fish of Peoria, division freight agent for the Alton, was in the city Monday on company business.

Burlington workmen were engaged Monday in tearing away part of the awning which covers the concrete platform at the passenger depot for the purpose of running a siding from the main line and connecting with the sidings to the south-west of the depot. In order to place the new siding it is also necessary to take up quite a lot of the concrete platform.

S. S. S. PURELY VEGETABLE

The fact that S. S. S. is a purely vegetable preparation, containing not the slightest trace of mineral in any form, has been one of the strongest points in its favor during its forty years of existence. It is recognized everywhere not only as the best of all blood purifiers, but the one medicine that can be taken with absolute safety by the youngest child or the oldest member of the family. Next in importance to removing the cause of any disease is the condition in which the system is left after a course of medical treatment. Medicines containing mercury, potash or other strong mineral ingredients often do permanent injury by eating out the delicate lining and tissues of the stomach, producing chronic dyspepsia, unfavorably affecting the bowels and so damaging the system that even if the original cause of the disease has been removed, it is left in such a deranged and weakened condition that the health is permanently impaired. S. S. S. enjoys the distinction of being the only blood medicine on the market that does not contain a mineral property in some form. Being made entirely of roots, herbs and barks it is absolutely harmless to any part of the system, and while curing disease adds strength and health to every part of the body. S. S. S. removes all poisons, freshens and purifies the blood and gives better and more lasting results than any other blood medicine. S. S. S. is the very best treatment for Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison and all troubles due to an impure or poisoned blood supply. Besides being the King of blood purifiers S. S. S. is the best and most invigorating of all tonics.

PUBLIC SEWER HEARINGS.

Public hearings were held at the city hall Monday by the board of local improvements on sewer propositions. The attendance was light and little interest seemed to be manifested on the part of property owners.

The Independence avenue, Myrtle street, Howe street and Lafayette avenue sewer hearing was held in the morning at 9 o'clock. Fifteen property owners were present, and all but one were opposed to the improvement.

The Edgmon street hearing was set for 10 o'clock, but nobody appeared in favor or against.

The hearing on the Prairie and Walnut street sewers was at 2 o'clock with fifteen attending. The sentiment appeared to be strongly in favor of a sewer on these streets.

E. Thrapp. The bearers were James Strawn, Hardin Keplinger, Jacob Strawn, Frank Green, Austin Green and James Green.

Mrs. Henderson was born in Knox county, Ohio, in 1820, her maiden name being Susanna W. Green, and came to this city at the age of two years with her father, who was a pioneer Christian preacher. This place at that time was nothing more than a prairie land. She was married to J. P. Henderson and they made their home ever afterwards in this city on College avenue, until about fifteen years ago when they moved to Chicago. He preceded her in death nine years ago and since that time Mrs. Henderson has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Hoagland. It was while Mrs. Henderson was sewing on April 5th, that she was suddenly taken with apoplexy and died about twenty minutes afterward.

She has been a faithful Christian woman all her life and was a member of the Christian church at the time of her death. She is survived by three sons, J. G. Henderson, of Chicago, W. P. Henderson, of Indiana, and H. B. Henderson, of western New York. Four daughters, Mrs. J. W. Hoagland, of New York City; Mrs. J. L. Armstrong, Seneca, Ill.; Mrs. W. D. McFarland, Pittsburg, Pa.; and Miss Mary E. Henderson, of Chicago. All of the children attended the burial in this city except J. G. Henderson, of Chicago, and W. P. Henderson, of Indiana. Her granddaughter, Mrs. H. E. O'Brien and son of Chicago, also attended the funeral.

B. H. Merrill received a dispatch Monday announcing the death of Walter Dawson at Covington, La., where he had gone for the benefit of his health. He was about 20 years of age and had been employed in Capps' mill. His mother is at present forewoman there in one of the departments.

The funeral will take place Thursday morning at Trinity church, KROUCH.

The remains of Mrs. Minnie Krouch arrived at 9:12 Monday morning from Chicago, and were taken to the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Wyatt, 1025 Beesley avenue, where the funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock.

NIXON.

He leaves surviving, his wife, three sons and two daughters. Mr. and Mrs. Nixon left for St. Louis Monday morning to attend the funeral which will be held this afternoon.

CAMPAIGN FOR NEW STUDENTS

Started on College Hill—Exercises Held Monday Morning—College Songs, Lusty Cheers and Addresses Features of Program.

Exercises looking toward an increased interest in the campaign for new students were held in the chapel of Illinois college Monday morning at the regular hour for chapel service. After the usual devotional exercises several college songs were sung under the leadership of Philip Kennedy and then Earl Wylder led in some rousing cheers.

President Rammekamp addressed the students in an enthusiastic speech in which he told of the plans to increase the attendance already under way, of the visitations made by Field Secretary Wylder during the past months and called attention of the students to a new card index system by which proper trace could be kept of prospective students whose names are handed in through the channel of the student body or through outside sources. His remarks were of an optimistic nature and he declared that from the result of the canvass thus far made he felt warranted in saying that an increase of students for next year was assured.

He urged the young gentlemen and ladies of the school to speak to their friends during the Easter vacation and bespoke the hearty co-operation of every one connected with the institution in the united effort that was being made to increase the attendance for another year.

President Rammekamp introduced H. H. Bancroft who spoke briefly in behalf of the alumni and W. L. Harrie followed with some timely and very appropriate remarks representing the student body. He expressed the opinion that there was less talk of "going somewhere else next year" among the present students on the hill than there had been for some years past, that the feeling was good and with the old students returning in large numbers it argued well for the future.

He spoke of the success of the various college enterprises and of the splendid spirit of the Illinois college "crowd" which was ever the subject of remark among visiting teams from other colleges of the state. He did not forget to mention "We" girls, and pictured the influence of the young ladies in a manner that evoked hearty applause.

President Rammekamp introduced Mrs. Truman P. Carter as the third speaker, who spoke as a representative of the Jacksonville Female academy. Mrs. Carter was very happy in her remarks and referred to the time when the "hill" was open to the admission of men only and what a privilege it was counted to be permitted to attend the philosophy lectures of Dr. Jones or come to Sunday chapel. Mrs. Carter was glad to see that a change had taken place and that now the young ladies of Jacksonville who had an ambition for the higher education did not have to leave their own city as the door of opportunity stood open ready for their entrance. She spoke of the varied fields of activity in which woman had achieved success and was glad that Illinois college had admitted women to its curriculum. She observed the salutary effect of the movement in more than one way and could remember the time when Monday morning chapel saw the young men attired in sweaters and making anything but an attractive appearance. Mrs. Carter was heard with deep interest and enthusiasm her hearers.

President Rammekamp next called upon L. E. Stone, of Clinton, Ill., member of the class of 1903, for a few remarks. Mr. Stone responded most happily and after expressing his pleasure at being upon the hill again assured all present that the good work done at Illinois college and the fine advantages it afforded the collegiate student should not be unknown in DeWitt county.

Principal Stoops spoke for Whipple academy and showed the effort that was being made to increase the Whipple attendance and certain it is that his good work in the past argues well for the future.

Rev. J. L. Wylder, field secretary of the college, made the closing remarks in his well known manner and with a fund of timely anecdotes roused the student body to a still higher pitch of enthusiasm and the exercises were concluded with a feeling on the part of all who were present that they would be productive of results and that new students would be gained for the college through the agency of a united effort on the part of the student body, president, trustees, alumni, faculty and past students.

THE MAJESTIC

is made of the same material as the Locomotive

The boiler jacket of a locomotive—exposed to wear, weather and heat—is made of sheet iron, because for such purposes sheet iron is more durable than sheet steel. The Majestic Range is made of sheet iron—not steel—for exactly the same reason.

It is a long step from locomotives to the range in your kitchen, but the material of which your range is made is of vital importance in your household economy—less repairs.

Sheet iron costs twice as much as sheet steel, but steel will rust, and cracks in your cooking apparatus means loss of heat, waste of fuel, and in a few years the range is ready for the junk heap.

In the body of all Majestic Ranges we now use Majestic Old Style Charcoal Iron. The top and framework are made of Majestic Malleable Iron—the iron that never breaks, cracks or warps, and is so thin that you can do all your cooking without removing the lids.

The locomotive is compelled to stand up under severe tests—good looks will not draw a train of cars. A range built to endure and stand every test is the most economical range that you can buy, and that range is

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused it to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores

The remarkable success of the Pinkham Vegetable Compound, which has won for its inventor, Dr. J. C. Pinkham, a world-wide reputation, is a story that has been told in many ways. It is a story of a woman's life, of a woman who, in the face of adversity, found a way to help others. It is a story of a woman who, in the face of poverty, found a way to make a living. It is a story of a woman who, in the face of death, found a way to live.

Yours for Health

and investigating mind, an earnest seeker after knowledge, and above all, possessed of a wonderfully sympathetic nature.

In 1843 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home medicines from roots and herbs, nature's own remedies—calling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and experience many of them gained a wonderful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs.

Mrs. Pinkham took a great interest in the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics and power over disease. She maintained that just as nature so bountifully provides in the harvest-fields and orchards vegetable foods of all kinds; so, if we but take the pains to find them in the roots and herbs of the field, there are remedies expressly designed to cure the various ills and weaknesses of the body, and it was her pleasure to search these out, and prepare simple and effective medicines for her own family and friends.

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured and it became quite a popular remedy among them.

At this so far we have seen the freely, without money and without price, as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lydia E. Pinkham and her family. Her husband's business failed, and she was left with a large family to support. She was forced to sell her home and move to a small, one-room house in Boston.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world. It was the result of a long and arduous search for a remedy for the various ills and weaknesses of the female sex, and it was the result of a long and arduous search for a remedy for the various ills and weaknesses of the female sex.

restored the family fortune, and she was able to provide for her family. She was able to provide for her family, and she was able to provide for her family. She was able to provide for her family, and she was able to provide for her family.

The Pinkhams had no money, a little credit. Their first laborer was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a glass of bottle. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured. Until today Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of the work. She passed to her reward years ago, but not till she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work, and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study, and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of woman's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equaled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up. With women assistants, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of the other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health," freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.

CHURCH NEWS

Enthusiastic Session of Christian Church Sunday School—Large Window Fund Raised—Many Unite With State Street Organization Notes of Interest.

Sunday was a rally day at the Christian church Sunday school, for the window fund. Much enthusiasm was manifested on the part of the members, and $120.68 was raised for this purpose. The attendance was 488. The attendance at the Parish Christian Sunday school, with which the local Sunday school is holding a contest in attendance and collection, had an attendance of 510 and a collection of $38.30.

That the Christian church Sunday school is capable of doing great things has been demonstrated time and again. Besides giving large collections every Sunday, their recent special efforts have produced the large collection of Sunday, and a collection of March 4 of $210.10 for Herbert Shaw, the church's missionary in China.

On Easter Sunday the Sunday school will observe rally day for the National Benevolent association of the Christian church, represented in this city by the Old People's Home. Easter Sunday is so observed in all the Christian church Sunday schools of the country, but the collections of the local Sunday school are all turned into the treasury of the Old People's Home.

A week from next Sunday will be the last in the old church, and special exercises will be observed. For dedication day, two weeks from next Sunday, the officers of the Sunday school expect an attendance of 1,000 and a collection of $200 for the building fund.

STATE STREET CHURCH.

Sunday was a red letter day at State Street Presbyterian church. There were forty-two additions, twenty-eight by confession and fourteen by letter from other churches. As Dr. Morey passed from one to another of the persons uniting, giving them the right hand of fellowship his emotions almost overcame him and he was obliged to wait until he could control his feelings. Another excellent result of the awakening was the fact that the trustees announced that the debt which had been hanging over the congregation had all been liquidated. The worthy pastor and the people are to be congratulated on this excellent showing.

Under the direction of W. B. Olds the choir of Westminster church gave the fifth and sixth parts of "The Passion," by Gaul, Sunday evening. The work was sung in an excellent manner and was greatly enjoyed by the members of the congregation. Friday evening of this week Satin's "Crucifixion" will be given in the church by a choir under the leadership of Mr. Olds.

Rev. T. H. Marsh went to Central Monday where he will assist in revival meetings which are being conducted at the Baptist church there. He will return to this city Saturday.

FOOD ADULTERATION

Discussed by Dr. James Brown of Illinois College Faculty—History of Subject Considered

Dr. James Brown of the Illinois college faculty addressed an interested audience at the Jones Memorial building at Illinois college Monday evening upon the subject of food adulteration, and the work of the pure food commissions in this and other states. He gave a very full and comprehensive review of the history of food adulterations, which he said had existed since the beginning of time almost. He cited the instance of wooden nutmegs foisted upon an unsuspecting public by enterprising merchants of Connecticut, which when discovered to be frauds, gave it the name to the state which it has ever since held.

Mr. Brown stated that a pure food commission, national, state or municipal, required two departments, a food analyst, to determine the composition of foods, and to see if they come up to the required standards and a food economist, to determine the nutritive qualities of various food products. He then spoke of the different methods used to determine adulteration, and the most common materials used in the adulteration of various products, which he classed as make weights, coloring or preservatives, such as formaldehyde, borax and sodium bicarbonate in milk; borax, boric acid, salicylic acid, benzoic acid in meats; salt-peter and red dyes in sausages; corn, alum and minerals in flour. He closed with a discussion of the best methods of prosecuting offenders and other necessary points for the enforcement of the pure food laws.

Only 5 days until Easter. Better hurry and order that suit from the Jacksonville Tailoring company. $15 and up.

IMPORTANT WORKS

Concrete Establishment of Otis Hoffman Where Many Useful Articles Are Being Made.

The person passing along the tracks of the Wabash, east of North Main street, will soon come to the concrete works of Otis Hoffman and will be surprised and pleased to see the work being done there. Timber is becoming more and more scarce and anything that will save it and at the same time be ornamental and durable is what is wanted. Handsome foundation blocks are one of the products of the place and while reasonable in expense are handsome in appearance and every way desirable. It is not necessary to pay such great prices for pressed brick as heretofore as Mr. Hoffman makes a sample of wall and face brick which will do well for any building and at far less prices. Porch columns are another branch of the work here, which are decidedly the thing for such structures and once seen would always be wanted. Every few years a chimney must be retopped if made of brick the ordinary way, but Hoffman makes a concrete top which will last for ages and can be placed on the flue below the roof and it is the most ornamental article for the purpose. Hand-some globes for gate posts are a feature of Mr. Hoffman's work and are quite desirable. Mr. Hoffman makes all kinds of concrete walks, cellar floors and similar work and any person having work in this line cannot do better than to call on him. He is a thoroughly reliable gentleman and will always live strictly up to his contracts.

DR. McCORMACK.

Dr. J. N. McCormack, of Bowling Green, Ky., arrived in Jacksonville Sunday evening as the guest of Dr. Carl E. Black, councillor of the Illinois State Medical society for this district. Yesterday Dr. McCormack was accompanied to Pittsfield by Dr. A. L. Adams and two meetings were held there, one with the physicians, and a general meeting. Both were largely attended and great enthusiasm in the subject of improving the relations of the physician and people was inspired. In the afternoon Dr. F. P. Norbury accompanied Dr. McCormack to Quincy, where a large general meeting was addressed by Dr. McCormack. To day he addresses meetings in Mt. Sterling and Virginia, and to night he will speak here at the public library.
